

EDC / From left to right and Top to bottom:

Freshly back from a Mars Analog Atacama expedition, and currently working as a Corporate photographer on assignment, I keep reading Anthropology related books connected to my research during my long subway ride in Paris Subway in the Early Morning and evening. I am currently involved in a Space Art project and was back from a show opening at the French CNES [National Center for Space Studies], which is our NASA, that explain the CNES napkin that ended up in my bag. Its currently a mix of some EDC favorite and some work related items. My favorite knife for my expeditions is the Extrema ratio RAO AVIO which is not on this picture (And definitely not a Urban knife)
